I own both of these books, and have always highly recommended them to my students. Although they are extremely informative, they can be a bit dry and not as enjoyable as a book about music history and composition can be. I also own the music I have ever written. These are my favorites. ¿Quién es José (Who is Joseph) By José Fernández Yepes Do you love the music you love? Do you want to learn how to play it better? I can't recommend these books enough. I have recommended them to so many people over the years that it hardly seems credible, but they truly are the best. The most complete book about any one type of music, including scores, lyrics, compositions, orchestration, history, analysis, tunings, construction, pedagogy and more. More than just a one-size-fits-all book that covers the fundamental guidelines for how to play music in an age-appropriate manner. It explains all types of music: guitar, voice, piano, bass, drums, stringed instruments, woodwinds, brass and more. It covers the most popular string instruments of the day and how to make music with them. It is the best book on sight-reading by a long shot, and has the best pedagogy of any book on sight-reading. The book discusses the key factors to success in music, including but not limited to: daily 82157476af
